

Guests holidaying at La Torre will find no shortage of fantastic restaurants to visit during their stay.

The complex is home to a number of impressive establishments, including La Encina, which is a buffet style venue with indoor and outdoor seating.

Guests dining here can choose from salads, sushi, fresh fish and grilled meat dishes, as well as an extensive range of tasty desserts.

For traditional Mediterranean cuisine holidaymakers can head to Limonero, which specialises in traditional paella and other rice dishes that are cooked on an open fire.

To enjoy tasty dishes from around the globe diners can book a table at Bamboo, which serves up food from Thailand, China, Mexico and the Middle East.

There are also a number of good restaurants located outside of the complex.

These include El Patio in Los Narejos, La Tropical Restaurant in Los Alcazares and Liang Shanpo in Torre Pacheco.
