Located in Murcia, La Manga Club typically basks in sunshine for more than 300 days a year, making it an ideal destination for people planning to take a tennis holiday in Spain this year.

The resort is renowned for its exceptional facilities and has hosted a number of prestigious events in the past, including the Davis Cup and Fed Cup.

La Manga is home to 28 tennis courts, including four with hard surfaces and two paddle tennis areas.

Guests holidaying at the resort can improve their game by signing up for a course at the tennis academy.

A great option for beginners is the five-day programme, which covers basics such as singles and doubles tactics, approach shots, serves and service returns.

As well as tennis, holidaymakers will find a range of other activities on offer in and around the resort, including golf, cycling, scuba diving, dinghy sailing, canoeing and hiking.
